

Sinclair should not be allowed to broadcast a biased anti-Kerry program so close to the date of the election. And their affiliated stations should not be forced to show it (pre-empting scheduled programming, no less).

This is another example of the grave problems of media consolidation under a single controlling entity with a political agenda.

This does not serve the public interest - and the public at large deserves either unbiased reporting, or equal time for both sides of a public argument.

Thank you..
